

ABSTRACT

The present invention is directed to methods and compositions for slowing or inhibiting the growth of tumors and decreasing the size of existing tumors. The compositions include dendritic cells contacted with tumor/B-cell hybrid cells and various T-cells contacted with tumor/B-cell hybrid cells (TBH cells). The present invention further encompasses methods of generating such compositions and methods of use of such compositions.